

CORNERSTONE

CHRISTIAN • ACADEMY

PERSONNEL UPDATES 2026-2027

New Hires:

Dwayne Alvis will teach Middle School math at Cornerstone. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Mathematics and a Master's in Mathematics Education, both from the University of Georgia. Mr. Alvis brings more than 30 years of teaching experience in public and private schools as well as the Governor's Honors Program. Mr. Alvis, who holds a "Gifted" certification, has been awarded STAR teacher three times at two different high schools. He lives in Peachtree Corners with his wife, Julie, and their son, Bennett. The Alvis family attends Peachtree Corners Baptist Church.

Lindsay Kleinhoff will teach Middle School math at Cornerstone. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Education from the University of Georgia and Master of Science in Education from Walden University. Mrs. Kleinhoff brings thirteen years of experience teaching math, including advanced and accelerated courses, to students in first through seventh grade in Gwinnett County. She holds a "Gifted" endorsement and has served on the Gwinnett County Math Leadership Team, worked as a lead mentor teacher and facilitated monthly staff development training. Mrs. Kleinhoff lives in Dunwoody with her husband, Billy, and their daughters, Abby and Ellie. The Kleinhoff family attends Peachtree Corners Baptist Church.

Christy Mosher will teach writing to students in first through fourth grades. Mrs. Mosher earned a Bachelor of Social Work from University of West Florida, a Master of Education degree from Mercer University, and her certification includes specializations in language arts, science, and math. She has taught in public, private, and homeschool settings and most recently was a Principal at a private Christian school. Mrs. Mosher and her husband, Scott, have been married for over twenty-five years and are the proud parents of two wonderful adult sons. In her free time, you might find her hiking through God's creation, engrossed in a good Bible study, or enjoying a cup of coffee while listening to her favorite worship music. On Sundays, the Moshers love worshipping Jesus with their Restoration Church family in Alpharetta.

Lydia Thompson will teach kindergarten at Cornerstone. She earned her Bachelor of Early Childhood Education from the University of Georgia and her Master of Instructional Technology from Kennesaw State University. Miss Thompson joins Cornerstone from Gwinnett County Public Schools where she taught elementary school. She led the math collaborative team and served on both the math vertical planning team and the STEM vertical planning team. She also holds endorsements in "Gifted" and "Instructional Technology". She is a proud aunt of a Cornerstone Cougar. Miss Thompson attends Trinity Anglican Church.

continued on next page

New Appointments/Shiftings:

- Christy Archibald is shifting to serve as our Art teacher.
- Sara Bachtel is shifting to Middle School Writing and History.
- Emily Dowling will be adding Director of Christian Life to her duties.
- Ryder Frost is shifting to the Lead Technology Specialist.
- Danielle Hendrickson will be adding Testing Coordinator to her duties.
- Adrienne Hunter will be shifting back to full time as a second grade teacher.
- Cassie Kinney is shifting to first grade.
- Brad Lantis is shifting to serve as our Veracross Database Manager.
- Danielle Leahy is shifting to School Portraits Coordinator.

Departures:

- Renee Albright is expecting and will be staying home with her child.
- Vicky Carr is retiring.
- Terri Childers is retiring.
- Becky Fleps is leaving for family reasons.
- Angie Rodgers is moving to South Carolina.